

Dad: What's wrong, Jay?

Jay: I feel sick. Ugghh. . .

Dad: That's too bad.

Jay: I want to go to the drugstore. I want to buy medicine. I want to go right now.

Dad: Do you want me to go with you?

Jay: Yes, please!

- ❖ What is wrong with Jay?
- ❖ Where does Jay want to go?
- ❖ What can you see in a drugstore?
- ❖ When do you take medicine?

Make a sentence: I want to _____ right now.

Find the nouns in the dialogue above, and write them here:

I am (I'm)

He is (He's)

She is (She's)

It is (It's)

You are (You're)

a student
a teacher
a drummer
a boy
a girl
a dog

a doctor
a farmer
a nurse
my brother
my sister
my pet

a man
a woman
a singer

my friend
my mother
my father

They are (They're)

You are (You're)

We are (We're)

students teachers doctors
boys
girls

dogs
brothers
sisters
friends
cats

Fix the mistakes in the sentences below:

1. He a teacher. _____

2. Theyr'e students. _____

3. She is my brother. _____

4. We are friend. _____

5. They are a boy. _____

6. She's is a girl. _____