

Mike: Are you OK, Ben? You don't look well.

Ben: I'm OK. I'm just a little upset.

Mike: Why are you upset?

Ben: I'm upset because my mother told me that my iguana is sick.

Mike: I'm sorry to hear that. Is it going to be OK?

Ben: I don't know. The veterinarian said that it has cancer.

Mike: Oh, cancer is very bad. How old is your iguana?

Ben: It is 15 years old. My mother said that the veterinarian might cure his cancer. It has a good chance of survival.

❖ What is a cure?

❖ Who is the oldest person that you know?

Make a sentence: I might _____ tomorrow.

Make a sentence: I'm just a little _____.

Fill in the blanks below with the vocabulary words above.

Ben is a little _____ because the _____ said that his iguana might have _____. Ben hopes that the veterinarian can _____ the iguana's cancer. The iguana has a good chance of _____.

Fill in the blanks with a verb in the correct form (Present, Present Continuous, Past, or Future).

1. I might _____ to Japan next year.
2. Andy _____ his homework right now.
3. Kelly and Nancy _____ tennis last night.
4. Josh _____ lunch at 12:00 every day.
5. Paula and Mickey _____ to the park tomorrow.
6. My grandparents _____ to my house yesterday and _____ dinner with us.
7. We plan to _____ tennis after we finish our homework.
8. Ron _____ on the telephone every night.
9. I _____ pizza last night.
10. I am going to _____ the teacher that you said a bad word!
11. My mother _____ in her bedroom right now.
12. My brother doesn't _____ to go to school today.
13. Randy _____ a cake last night.